Undergraduate Program for International Students
in Jining Medical University in 2025

I. Introduction to the School

Jining Medical University was established in 1952 and is a provincial-level ordinary undergraduate medical college with a focus on medical education, developing in a coordinated manner with multiple disciplines including medicine, science, engineering, management, and humanities. The university is one of the first batch of colleges and universities in the country to implement the Excellent Doctor Education and Training Program and the first batch of application-oriented undergraduate colleges in Shandong Province. It currently has three campuses: Jining Taibai Lake Campus, Rengcheng Campus, and Rizhao Campus.

The school currently has 19 teaching units and 35 undergraduate majors. Among them, there are 2 national first-class undergraduate majors, 2 national characteristic majors, and 18 provincial first-class undergraduate majors. The school has more than 18,000 full-time undergraduate and graduate students, and more than 1,600 faculty members. There are 4 "Taishan Scholars" distinguished experts, 14 "Taishan Scholars" young experts, 3 provincial outstanding young and middle-aged experts, and 4 personnel enjoying special government allowances. The clinical medicine major has entered the top 5‰ of the ESI global rankings, and the pharmacology and toxicology discipline has entered the top 1% of the ESI global rankings. There is 1 directly affiliated hospital, 14 non-directly affiliated hospitals, and 169 practical teaching bases.

Over the years, the school has deeply implemented an open educational approach, establishing cooperative programs with several foreign universities including the University of Warwick in the UK, the University of Leicester in the UK, the Karolinska Institute in Sweden, the Plekhanov Russian University of Economics in Russia, Volgograd State Medical University in Russia, Al-Azhar University in Egypt, Chungnam National University in South Korea, and the University of Malaya in Malaysia. These collaborations span various areas such as joint education, faculty and student exchanges, and academic exchanges, creating extensive and profound partnerships.
